Navajo taught

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — The University of New Mexico's Gallup branch is conducting a course in the difficult Navajo language.

The course is an effort to bridge the gap between the Navajo and non-Navajo residents in the Gallup area, which is near the Navajo Reservation, largest in the United States.

The class is being taken by lawyers, educators, doctors, missionaries, merchants and housewives.

Adams manages 'Get Smart' Maneuver to rescue show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If you're looking for a cliff-hanging adventure in television programming, consider the case of "Get Smart."

No, I don't mean the on-the-tube capers of Agent 86, also known as Maxwell Smart, the fallible operative of CONTROL. I'm referring to the real-life feat of comedian Don Adams in saving his television series from cancellation. Like Smart, Adams was a most reluctant hero.

You'll be seeing "Get Smart" for a fifth year, but on a different network. Rarely has a series switched networks ("My Three Sons," Alfred Hitchcock, Danny Thomas), and "Get Smart" almost didn't make it. Adams related the sequence of events:

"NBC notified us three days before the deadline that they were going to let 'Get Smart' go. But they wanted me to stay on and sign for specials next season and my own variety program the following year. It was a fantastic offer, and I was seriously considering it.

"I was in-between on 'Get Smart.' In four years it had won a flock of Emmies, including two for myself, and I felt that it had made a real contribution to television comedy. I was ready to walk away from it and go on to producing and directing features, which I have long wanted to do."

On the other hand, he felt a loyalty to "Get Smart," and he was a trifle peeved at the way NBC had used it to bolster ratings of less promising shows.

"For a lead-in they had given us 'Please Don't Eat the Daisies,' which was like 89th in the ratings. Then it was 'Maya, The Jungle Elephant,' or whatever the hell it was. Then 'Adam 12.' We had to fight for our audience every season.

"Finally NBC put us opposite the second half-hour of Jackie Gleason. I don't mind facing the first half-hour of an hour show—but the second! Even so, 'Get Smart' managed to get a respectable rating."

News of the "Get Smart" cancellation swept through the executive offices of the networks. ABC came up with a reprieve offer. Then CBS made a proposal to take over "Get Smart" and back Adams' production company in developing projects.

In the predawn hours before the NBC deadline, Adams spoke on the telephone with NBC's Herb Schlosser and CBS' Mike Dann. When the comedian finally went to sleep, he had decided to cast his lot with NBC.

"That morning I was awakened by a telephone call from The New York Times congratulating me for being on the CBS schedule, which was released that morning," id Adams. "What had happened was that my managers had met with CBS, which was able to come up with an immediate decision.

"NBC couldn't act that fast, and I would have lost my bargaining position if I had waited. It was too bad, because I am very fond of the NBC boys. But I told them it was their mistake for not opening negotiations two weeks before the deadline instead of three days."

Helen plays the heavy...

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Yes, I'm playing a real rascal, and what a joy it is: The nice thing about being a character actress is that you get a chance to play such fascinating parts."

Helen Hayes was exulting over what she termed a brand new career. She is performing in her first movie since "Anastasia" in 1956. Her role: Ada Quonsett, the sweet little lady who is a professional stowaway in "Airport," the all-star Universal version of Arthur Hailey's best-selling novel.

"A whole new field has opened up for me since I played in 'The Show-Off' on the stage," remarked Miss Hayes. "I played a real hard-ridden in that one, and audiences loved her because she aimed her scorn at the show-off."

"And oh, how lovely it is to be able to grab hold of a real character. The trouble with being a star when you are younger—particularly if you have some reputation for uprightness—is that the roles you get lack dimension. My most successful role was Queen Victoria, which I enjoyed because she was portrayed as a rather headstrong, willful and sometimes foolish woman.

"Now I'm looking forward to a new career as a character actress. I enjoyed your recent column about the decline of experienced character performers in films, it gave me a hope that other producers might hire me."

Miss Hayes emphasized that her future work would be in films and television only.

"I have retired from the stage," she declared. When I expressed doubt that she would abandon the theater after devoting 63 of her 68 years to it, she said: "No, I'm through; I just can't take the routine of eight performances a week any more. I've done it too long."

"When I finished up 'The Show-Off' in Washington, I made the announcement. I figured if I announced my retirement from the stage in public I would be too ashamed to change my mind later."

She laughed as she recalled a onetime associate in the theater who had a severe drinking problem. During a brief sober period, he signed a manifesto denying himself any further use of whisky, brandy, beer, etc., continuing with every alcoholic beverage he could think of.

"But a week later he discovered an obscure drink that wasn't on the list, and he went off on a terrific bender," said Miss Hayes. "Well, I have sworn off the stage. But I'm leaving the door open for other things, such as movies and television."

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY

RECREATION HINT: Fine for attending art exhibits, meeting persons who introduce you to artisans. Excellent for display of art and craft work. A fashion show provides fine entertainment on this day — and so does an exhibit concerned with food.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): In attending social affair, don't break resolutions concerning health, diet. Excellent for getting together with those who serve or work with you. Be diplomatic — and smile.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Good lunar aspect today coincides with creative pursuits. You get chance to really express feelings. Activity with children favored. You are going to overcome some restrictions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Some changes due, but not without opposition. Older individual must be handled with kid gloves. Live up to obligations but insist on right to make a move.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): A short journey with family member could provide relaxation, pleasure. Trip to special exhibit proves rewarding. You may have dealings with GEMINI individual.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Don't deceive yourself in financial matters. Get money's worth. Some try to sell you a bill of goods. Take it easy. There is no need to rush. Heed spiritual counsel.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Take compliments in stride. Be gracious. Circumstances turn in your favor. Ride with the tide. You may be called upon to make special appearance.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 22): Accept invitation to unique presentation. Group activity is favored. Get involved with important project. Co-operate with those who aid the less fortunate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Take initiative in fulfilling desires. You get co-operation, but must display interest. New contact aids. Some of your wishes are subject to revision. Basically you succeed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You are given added responsibility. Be receptive. Your attitude today may be under special observation. Those in authority are concerned with your reactions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Keep communication lines open. Relative may be trying to get in touch. What you put on paper today could have far-reaching effect. Know this and act accordingly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Check details connected with financial obligation. Mate or partner needs special attention. Don't neglect essentials. If persistent, you get desired answer.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20): Change due in basic relationship. Strive to understand needs of others. If you do, difficulty is avoided. Your opinion is sought on legal matter.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are able to aid people extricate themselves from difficult problems. At times, some take advantage, lean on you and draw away your energy. You are attracted to medicine and seem to have natural instinct for what's best for those who are ill. Key is to also learn to aid yourself. Domestic problem will be settled.

Crane is sought-after host, But he still wants to act

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — It used to be that television's main status symbol was a carefully circulated report that a performer made $250,000 or better a year.

Inflation has hit status symbols, along with everything else. Now the rumored mean financial rewards have shot beyond $300,000 and some new symbols have been added. Among them are invitations to do a series of "Laugh-in" gags—and substitute guest-hosting, particularly on the "Tonight Show," although it is a considerable glory to take over for Joey Bishop or Merv Griffin.

By these contemporary yardsticks, Bob Crane is among the stellar elite. Crane plays, of course, the title role in "Hogan's Heroes," the CBS comedy series that goes into its fifth season next September. As a former disc jockey—the man with whom a large segment of Los Angeles shaved, drank coffee and sat in a bumper-to-bumper freeway traffic each morning—Crane finds handling a TV talk-and-comedy show with its complicated station-breaks and frantic timetable of guests as easy as juggling two tennis balls.

"I like to do an occasional guest spot," said Crane one day recently as he awaited a call from the Carson office, "but it seems that everybody wants me to go the host route. ABC, NBC, CBS and most of the independents have talked to me about it—Carson himself once asked me if I was interested and added he wouldn't be there forever. But I wouldn't do it for all the money in the world. I want to be an actor."

Crane, whose jaunty, self-confident manner is no facade, took a big gamble on his acting abilities. He quit the radio show for the lead in "Hogan's Heroes" at a time when his salary ran into the high five figures. He won—partly—and now his eye is on what he considers higher goals.

It was 10 years ago when Crane moved on to local radio and a disc jockey's chair. He was heard by a CBS executive and moved on to the network's Los Angeles station. He was quick, witty and an over-morning success on his wake-up show.

***
But Crane had the acting bug and bothered Carl Reiner so persistently he finally was given a chance on one "Dick Van Dyke Show" episode. That led to a continuing part as a neighbor on "The Donna Reed Show." Crane handled the part by moonlighting.

"I left after two years," he said. "I wanted to get away from one character, and I thought I'd proved in the show that I could handle comedy."

After that, he had some offers for series—"they asked me to test for 'Please Don't Eat the Daisies,' but I didn't want any part of that scene. After all, I get enough of that family thing at home."

Crane and wife Anne have three children, aged 17, 9 and 8. Then along came "Hogan's Heroes."

For the first couple of seasons, Crane and his fellow funmakers were kept busy during their off-camera moments earnestly explaining that they weren't really treating World War II as a joke or even trying to make it appear that the entire German army had been composed of a bunch of vain boobs.

But for Crane, "Hogan's Heroes" is a way-station en route to greater things. A couple of seasons back he realized that he was never seen by the public except when he was wearing a leather jacket and had his Air Force colonel's hat pushed jauntily on the back of his head.

"Probably no one noticed," he said, "but I started appearing without them."

The telephone rang and Crane, who was booked as a Carson guest that night, sprang for the phone. It was Rudy Tellez, director of the "Tonight" show. Carson, it seems, had some cold symptoms and would Bob take over the show for the night? Bob would, indeed, and his manner immediately became serious as he discussed some presentation ideas.

Nothing left out

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — while Wilbur Cashion, manager of the Ritz Hotel, was visiting in Italy he became friends with a family there.

Upon his return, he wrote a letter, on hotel stationery, to thank the family for the kindness shown him.

An answer arrived, addressed in this manner: "Senor Wilbur Cashion, Ritz Hotel, 100 Rooms, 100 Baths, Paducah, Ky., U.S.A."

Crane's contract with "Hogan's" winds up with next season's shows but already, he said, CBS has been talking to him about the future.

"I'd like seven years for the series," he said, "and there are these long periods between seasons. I'd go crazy doing nothing, so I'll do a play or a special. I made 'Arsenic and Old Lace' a year ago—a chance to work with Helen Hayes and Lillian Gish and a new kind of part for me. Then I played eight weeks in a production of 'Send Me No Flower's and recently wound up six weeks in Ohio with 'Cactus Flower.'"

"Of course, I'm always hoping a movie will come along—that's a long time off, from February until July."

Elaborate makeup and some pretty fancy camera work transform stuntman Alex Stevens into the hirsute horror, which stalks the "Dark Shadows" at 4 p.m. weekdays on Channel 7. Actually, Stevens is all made up before the show is taped and a composite series of film sequences creates the impression of an instantaneous screen transformation.

Generation gaps

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — While John Bockey was busy writing checks to pay a batch of bills, the doorbell rang. His daughter Mary, who answered the door announced that a man wanted to see him. "What's he got, a bill?" sighed the harassed Bockey. "No," replied his daughter, "he's just got a plain old nose."
